December 2016 Confidential Voter Information:

On April 3, 2017, the Secretary of State (SOS) will enable the functionality that automatically expires public safety officer's confidential voter status after two years. If the confidential voters in your county have not been entered into the local EMS and sent to VoteCal, please do so by December 31, 2016. If you need information related to entering confidential voters in the local EMS or security access, contact your EMS vendor.

In order for counties to prepare for April, the Secretary of State will provide each county with a report in January. The report will identify the confidential public safety officers with an expiration date on or before June 30, 2017. County elections officials are responsible for contacting the confidential public safety officers on the list and providing the appropriate notification and re-application information. Those confidential voters with an expiration date on or before April 3, 2017 will expire when the functionality is turned on.

Confidential voters are entered and managed in the local county Election Management System (EMS) and maintained in VoteCal to comply with the federal Help America Vote Act (HAVA) mandate for maintaining a single voter registration list for all voters in the state. Confidential voters included in the statewide voter registration list are considered permanent vote-by-mail voters, and residential address, email address, and phone number is considered protected information only accessible by staff with the appropriate security credentials.

Confidential voter information, with the mailing address, is only used for election, scholarly or political research, or for government purposes. For more information related to security access and managing confidential voters in the county EMS, contact your EMS vendor.

This document provides guidance on the following processes:

- Confidential voters that move between counties
- Automatic expiration of a public safety officer’s confidential status

Guidance: Confidential Voters Moving between Counties

Counties may receive potential match messages for confidential voters if a confidential voter from one county completes a new voter registration in a new county, or if a DMV Change of Address (DMV COA) is received for an existing voter. After a county enters a new voter registration affidavit, VoteCal looks for matching voter records across the state. If a match is found for an existing confidential voter in another county, VoteCal sends a “Potential Duplicate Match for Confidential Voter” message to the new county. All confidential voter matches are considered potential matches; VoteCal does not use high confidence matching criteria for confidential voters. Only a county EMS user with permission to access confidential voter records can make a match determination for a confidential voter record. Once a match determination is made, the confidential voter record moves to the new county and merges with the new record. The voter status remains confidential until a user removes the status, or the voter is a public safety officer and confidential status automatically expires two years from the application date.

Elections Code (EC) sections 2166, 2166.5 and 2166.7 have been amended to provide direction to county elections officials when a confidential voter moves to a new county. Table 1: Confidential Voter Moves to a New County describes the county responsibilities.

Guidance: Automatic Expiration of Public Safety Officers Confidential Status

VoteCal automatically ends the confidential status of a public safety officer two years from the date of application, pursuant to Elections Code 2166.7. VoteCal sends a warning message to the county 90 days prior to the expiration date allowing county staff time to contact the confidential voter and provide the voter an opportunity to reapply for confidential status. If the voter does not respond to the county outreach attempts, then VoteCal automatically ends the confidential status and sends a message to the EMS at the end of the 90 days. If the voter reapplies and is approved by the county to continue voter record confidentiality, the county updates the confidentiality date.

It is anticipated that when the automatic expiration functionality is enabled there will be confidential voters that are ready to expire. In order to prepare for this, the Secretary of State
