Method used to choose precincts and batch of ballots to manually tally (include description of random selection method):

Method of Selecting the Random Sample

To select the precincts, slips of paper in equal size with one slip per precinct are folded and placed in a wheel and shuffled. A random number is drawn from the wheel. If the percentage of votes from the random precinct is less than 2% of the total votes cast, a second precinct is randomly drawn; this is continued until at least 2% of total votes cast will be audited. While the statute mandates only 1% of the total precincts are to be audited, we may select more for additional transparency.
