Guidance: Updating Voter Registration Dates

Issuance Date: June 24, 2016  Revision Date: July 22, 2019  Page 1 of 7

Purpose

The purpose of this document is to standardize and make consistent the process used by California counties to add and update voter registration dates.

VoteCal requires a standardized process for voter registration dates across the 58 counties to provide a consistent process for VoteCal to function as expected. This document provides guidance for the counties for adding and updating voter registration dates and related fields in VoteCal.

Guidance

Voter registration dates and related fields (registration source, form type, and delivery method) are to be updated, based on the tables below, whenever a registration, reregistration, or address change for a voter has been accepted and the voter record is updated. The VoteCal Official List extracts include voters eligible for an election based on the precinct and registration date associated with the voters’ records. A voter is eligible for an election if they are registered on or before the election registration close date. When a voter’s address is updated without a corresponding registration date update, the voter’s eligibility to vote in a jurisdiction is determined based on the registration date on file, which may be a date prior to the change of address. The VoteCal public access website uses the same logic and as such may display that a voter is eligible for an election (after the registration close date) when in fact they are not eligible to vote. Additionally VoteCal uses the registration date (among other events) for determining match criteria and choosing the appropriate surviving record. Accordingly, harmonizing registration date update procedures is critical to facilitating a functioning statewide database.

Registration Date Updates

The VoteCal Project Team – working closely with the CACEO’s Business Process Committee (BPC) - has identified the following process for adding and updating voter registration dates.

Table 1 - Voter Registration Dates provides guidance on what date to use when updating the Registration Date.

Note: The Elections Code (EC) sections and California Code of Regulations (CCR) sections cited below do not prescribe the specific guidelines as described in the following table. The EC and CCR sections provide supporting information and the premise for developing the below guidelines.
